

CTC Intensive Training Workshop

Diversification for Play Therapists & Other Suitably Qualified Professionals Series

Fairytales, Music & Play! Creative approaches for working with children and teenagers.

Edel Lawlor

Date: Kerry, 19th May 2019

Fee: €110

Creative ways to support children and teenagers using fairytales, music and play! This important area will be explored by spending time in nature and through sand, art, storytelling and music.

It is a one day experiential workshop where we will explore fairytales and how we can use them with children. Participants will take a trip down the fairy trail and may even meet a fairy! Potion making, wand making and shields are ways to engage children in using their imagination and exploring metaphors that can be used to channel and encourage coping skills and recovery. Using music alongside these creative interventions can be extremely beneficial. Music such as songs from "The Greatest Showman" can bring many benefits to children and teens we work with daily. Lots of creative activities that can be used with children and teenagers will be explored in a fun and creative way.

Facilitator: Edel Lawlor, MA.

Edel is a child and adolescent psychotherapist specialising in play therapy, she also has qualifications in; Sand Tray Therapy, Social Care, Therapeutic Art and Theraplay.
